

2022

YEAR OF WATER
TIGER

2022 IS THE REN YIN, WATER TIGER YEAR.

Some good news with the return, the birth of the fire element in the destiny pillars of 2022 as it was missing since 2019. Fire signifies positivity and happiness. In 2022, we can expect gradual economic recovery with an increase spending in the consumer market that is expected to pick up pace from the 2nd half of 2022. Global stock market likewise is expected to perform well with an increase in activity after summer. High risk speculative investments is well suited this year.

We can expect to see more people traveling this year for both leisure and work with more opportunities for relocation. As water element is favorable in 2022, industry such as retail, freight forwarding, tourism and aviation is set for a rebound. In the study of purple star astrology, 2022 strongly favors businesses such as massage parlors, casinos, night clubs and vice activities.

In the phase of 12 growth, it clearly indicate change, movement and the renewal of things thus we will see major transformation in both global economy and politics. The negative side of it is fierce competition occurs in the midst of change and tension may erupt to serious conflicts and even war though if we factor the 60 years cycle, we would expect things to be resolved before it turns full blown. The economic war between US and China will be sharpened this year with China influential power set to grow while the US is expected to play second fiddle. Turning our attention closer to home, Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines will encounter slower economic growth due to some setbacks this year.

In such a year of the water tiger with the wood element in control of earth element, those born in the year of the monkey 1956, 1968, 1980, 1992, 2004 are expected to face more obstacles, less progress and in more serious instances, misfortunes will arise. Those with snake and monkey in their destiny chart and if fire is an unfavorable element to you, you will encounter a troubled year plague with serious relationship issues and pay extra attention to heart and inflammatory problems. It is to highlight there is a significant increase in fatal accidents in such year of the water tiger thus if you are traveling abroad or born in the year of monkey or have an inauspicious destiny configuration in 2022 , it is advisable to get a talisman or amulet to protect the birth of the fire element, i would expect the COVID-19 pandemic to be well contained as we move on to brighter days ahead.

2022 FENG SHUI

As the configuration of energies changes every year, it is also vital especially for those who have not had their home or office fengshui-ed before to pay greater attention. I'll dive straight into the application of mitigating the most negative energy. I will not touch on enhancing the good energies within a property as the authentic application cannot be utilized without first understanding the property, one would easily create more problems within the property instead of enhancing it. Practical and theory is distinctively 2 different

For buildings, factory, landed properties or house and lot type. If your main door is located in or faces south west, or your bedroom is located in the southwest of your property, place a round metal bowl (circumference should be at least 20cm with 10cm depth) with 6 ancient coins and fill it up with water and place it near the door.

For Condominium or apartment units, If your unit is located at the southwest of the entire building, place a round metal bowl (circumference should be at least 20cm with 10cm depth) with 6 ancient coins and fill it up with water and place it near the main door.

*For size of bowl, it should follow the area of your door. On first look and you find your bowl looks too small for that area, it is then indeed small thus get a larger one. Important is if placement is correct, if it is, the bigger the better, if unsure, smaller is better.
